Grace United Methodist, 300 E. Gartner

Does your child have trouble decoding new words?

Does your child have difficulty with comprehension because he is concentrating on trying to sound out words?

Help your child improve phonics and decoding skills. Join our workshop
PHONICS IS PHUN! It really is fun!

Our multisensory approach includes visual, auditory and kinesthetic activities in a small group to improve reading, writing and spelling.

The goals of this workshop are to:

- Increase phonological awareness through blending and segmentation of sounds, syllable splitting and phoneme manipulation. All of these are necessary components for success in reading.
- Improve decoding and stop the guessing habit. Students will learn the 6 syllable types in the English language and rules of how to divide multisyllabic words.
- Improve spelling by exploring sound options and using phonics rules. A daily visual drill, auditory drill and blending drill improve spelling and decoding
- Improve reading through practice in applying phonics rules to a text. Games and other activities will be used as well.
- Improve writing through sentence dictation and activities designed to bring spelling into writing.
